

DOGGY JAVA COMPANY HISTORY

Doggy Java was created in 2005 and is a subsidiary of the DoggyLicious, LLC. The concept and evolution of what Doggy Java is today; initially began in 1996 when the creator and founder, Mari Justin, discovered the severe effects that dehydration has on animals. She quickly learned the importance of this previously unexplored issue and created Doggy Java with the help of the DoggyLicious team.

The Doggy Java team consists of a wonderful group of genuine animal lovers with a mission to enhance the well-being of dogs, and eventually cats, by creating and providing quality treats that not only make our best friends happy, but feel better too!

Doggy Java is Veterinarian developed to help manage hydration with a uniquely simple way of administering their vitamins, minerals and antioxidants through a treat they will enjoy. We at Doggy Java strive to continue in our efforts to conduct ongoing research and continuously improve our existing products, and develop more innovative and highly nutritious products. Doggy Java can attribute its knowledge and expertise to our Veterinarians Dr. Brett Bauscher, Dr. David Dzanis and Dr. Mari Anger.
